What Dennis Says.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Herald's Boston special says: I met Dennis Kearney this morning, and asked him what he thought of the result. He said: "Well, you see, I was right. I told the Workingmen that when they came together for united action, Democratic thieves and Republican robbers would combine against them; but we have shown them that we are over one hundred thousand strong, and that we will be a terror to the bondholders and swindlers of the country. I think that my work for Butler helped to swell the vote. I will now organize the city for a municipal campaign in every ward and precinct, and pitch into both Democrats and Republicans who are now opposed to us. You see what we did in New York? We beat Tammany. I did that when I was over there. I told the Workingmen to organize against rings and thieves—John Kelly, Tilden, Seidl and all such political thieves—and overthrow them." Kearney was very much excited. There were threats on his lips and fire in his eye, and he is evidently determined to make a lively campaign in city politics, which will insure the election of a Republican city government.

Dennis Comforts Butler.

[San Jose Herald.] "Misery loves company," remarked the disconsolate widow Butler, as she sat down with little Dennis, the most miserable company that could be found either in or out of state prison. "Ar-rah, what, my dear, don't be takin' on so. The daylight robbers are all ferried ye, bad cess to 'em, but your own Dennis is here, and he's not a bad fellow. I'll make Bacon street run wild for ye. I'll have me at the hell bound villains; who, whillaw, B. J. Zez, thread on the tail av me co-somebody. Whoo o-o-p!"

A Case of Bogus Baby in High Life.

LONDON, Nov. 7th.—In the Marlborough street police court yesterday a summons was set on for hearing against Lady Annie Louisa Gooch and another, charging them with conspiracy to palm off a spurious child on Sir Francis Gooch, his heir. Lady Gooch's counsel presented the certificate of the physician that she was unable to attend. The magistrate declared the certificate unsatisfactory and adjourned the case for one week, declaring if Lady Gooch was not present then he would issue a warrant for her immediate apprehension.

Very little is known of the complexion of the next legislature, but the lowest estimates place the Republican majority on joint ballot at 36.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

A San Francisco Woman Hacked to Pieces.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—About 7 o'clock this morning, Richard Barry, residing at the corner of Parker avenue and Fulton street, near Masonic cemetery, left home for the Golden Gate park, where he is employed as a gardener, leaving his wife and son, a boy about twelve years of age, at home. The boy left for school about 8 o'clock, and a short time after, William Dargie, at work not far distant in the cemetery, heard screams proceeding from Barry's house, and directly after saw the door, which was standing open, closed by some one from the inside. Supposing Mrs. Barry was punishing the boy, of whose departure he was not aware, he paid no attention to the matter. About 10 o'clock a friend of Barry's by the name of McCue, called at the house, and his knock meeting with no response, he entered. He was horrified to find lying on the kitchen floor, in a pool of blood, the body of Mrs. Barry, the head and face literally chopped to pieces, and the hatchet with which the deed was done lying beside it. The room bore evidences of a desperate struggle and was smeared with blood. It was evident that a robbery had incited the murder, as the trunk in the room back of the kitchen had been broken open and the contents strewn around and the few dollars in money which had been deposited there, taken away. A suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Barry had also been carried off. The alarm was given after some considerable delay at the house and in the afternoon an officer and a deputy coroner proceeded to the scene of the murder. In examining the premises and vicinity they discovered tracks leading from the house in the yielding sand, and tracked them about three quarters of a mile to where there was an ingrowth of scrub oaks, when they came upon a camp in a small, clear space, with cooking utensils, etc., scattered about. Lying in the bush near by they found a tramp, who, on being discovered, said: "What do you want? I haven't done anything." "Who said you had?" replied the officer, who then questioned the man. He gave his name as Albert Echner, and said that he worked in town and came out there to sleep. On his person was found a large sheath knife, but nothing to connect him with the murder. He was locked up pending further examination of the affair. Mrs. Barry was a native of Ireland, aged forty-five years.

Don't Forget It.

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisons arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Liver Pilewort proves itself the great liver purifier. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. It cures are truly wonderful. Try it. The Clothing War.

EDITOR GAZETTE: In the Journal of October 3d, I find an announcement signed L. Abraham, of the White House. This announcement sets forth that other dealers in clothing keeps "humbly shops" and offer "unsalable goods" to the public. He also believes that these humbly dealers "lie to deceive the public." I represent, for my part of the humbly, Mr. Editor, I represent that when I offer "unsalable goods" I always suffer for it, and not Mr. Abraham. The people have worn my goods long enough to know from a "humbly shop" or not. During my many years residence and business in Reno, I have made my own reputation and it is safe from the interested charges brought by this newcomer at the White House.

Now, whether I keep a humbly shop or not, I shall continue to sell the best goods in market and at the lowest rates. I shall sell men and boys clothing cheaper than "Whitey" can sell them. I shall keep more goods, and a reaser stock always on hand. And all of these assertions, so far from being "lies to deceive the public" can be proven by my patrons during fair week as they have been proven any time during the past ten years.

KEEP FAITH WITH YOUR PEOPLE.

A few stray thoughts upon the success last election may prove of value to our Democratic friends, and cause the Republicans to avoid the snare which caught their opponents. How about the Democratic platform, and its promises to the people? Owing to the exertions of several of the Democratic leaders, a large part of our people began to believe that platforms were only made to catch votes. This made it easy for the Democrats notwithstanding their anti-third term professions to nominate Bradley, and proclaim that their previous promises to the people had no local significance. They did not believe in the necessity of limiting Democratic ambition, but thought it entirely necessary that Republican rule should be confined. They presumed that voters were ignorant and made no account of promises kept or betrayed, and hence the presumption was rebuked as might have been expected. Every candidate who is now in the gloom of defeat can trace his fall to a broken plank. After inveigling against third terms no party can elect a third term. After abusing an aspirant and accusing him of dishonesty, they must not expect the people to choose him again as a public servant and finally the candidates or representatives of any party must not make promises without a preparation for their prompt fulfillment.

This brings us to our Republican friends who are now crowned with victory, and we say to them that their platform requires more attentive reading now than ever before. The promises made must be religiously kept and if this course be followed no campaign will be necessary in 1880. Let the party of success in 1878 show by its works that promises were not made to catch votes, but to protect their people and encourage confidence. The Republican platform adopted by the party in this state is eminently sound. It touches upon every issue which the people feel to be near and dear to them. It promises its ability and zeal to the correction of existing abuses, and these promises must bear fruit in honest endeavor. It is not to be understood that all things are to be made plain by the party in one term of office, but there should be energy and exertion for the public good. The railroad question, Chinese question, state taxation and all matters requiring solution must be studied. We have been successful in promising, let us now be honest in fulfilling. This will make a party success easy and complete once more when the ballot-boxes are again handed to the people. Broken promises beat the Democrats, it is for the men in whom we have confidence, to say whether the same policy shall prejudice Republican success. The people have chosen intelligently, and when again the choice is referred to, we hope it will be to them a matter of pride. Let the Republican party look forward to 1880 with hope and exert itself to renewed endeavor in behalf of the people.

MORE BULLDOZING.

A late Washington special says: Letters received here this afternoon from South Carolina say the election there on Tuesday was a complete farce. The negroes in many counties were advised to stay away from the polls by the "red shirted" Democracy, and they did so. The result was that in more than twenty precincts where the Republicans usually poll an average of about 600 votes, not a dozen Republican votes were cast. In strong Republican counties, where the majority heretofore has been upwards of 2000, the Democratic returns show that the Democratic candidates received more votes than there are white people in the county, counting men, women and children.

Our Democratic friends are requested to answer this and show some cause in it for their plea against the bloody shirt. South Carolina has been for some time under Democratic rule. There is no excuse therefore in that fact unless Democratic rule means the oppression of Republicans. If justice be done some of those "red-shirted Democrats" will wear bloody shirts, and the lovers of the lost cause will be made to see through the force of arms that the war and its pleasant customs of bush-whacking and murder have been laid away forever.

MORMONDOM.

The women of Utah have petitioned the sex for a united effort against the practice of polygamy. There seems to be some fascination about the customs of Mormonism which holds ignorance in complete subjection. The case of the woman Owens, recently published, shows how dangerous polygamy may become if allowed to grow. This woman was released from Mormon control at her own fearful request. The Gentiles espoused her cause and the courts gave her protection, and yet the hoary headed old sinner, who married her and two other women in the same day, has brought her back to him. His influence was of such a nature as to cause her voluntarily submission, and she now seems proud of her shame. The oaths of the endowment house are so stringent that even apostles will not reveal them. This direct alliance of church and state is against every American idea and the institution of female slavery should call for more indignation than the importation of serfs from other lands. The administration of Mormon affairs is on a par with the Chinese companies of this coast. The authority of its leaders reaches the absolute, and the unscrupulous murders and robberies which defend such rule are an insult to our laws. It should be a matter of pride to every American that he aid in forcing the wave of public opinion against the walls of Mormonism. That they have stood so long disgraces us, and the time has come when we must forfeit our laws or self-respect.

A GOOD THING FOR NEVADA.

In spite of a vigorous opposition from a small portion of his own party R. M. Daggett of the Virginia Enterprise has been elected to congress from Nevada by a fair majority. We are glad of this. Daggett is one of the brightest members of the editorial fraternity on the Pacific slope. He is a bitter partisan—we could wish sometimes that he were less uncompromising in his political views—but he is a warm friend and a genial companion. In his election Nevada has honored both herself and the house of representatives. We predict that Daggett will come back from a two year old residence in Washington with a head as full of new ideas as an egg is full of meat.—S. F. Stock Report.

The opinion of newspaper men so generally expressed in favor of Mr. Daggett ought to be very gratifying to him. The GAZETTE was the first to name him for the office.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

One of the satisfactions of the recent elections, says the San Francisco Alta, is the election of Mr. Daggett, a newspaper man, formerly of this city, and for many years editor of the Virginia Territorial Enterprise. During the time of the nation's troubles and dangers, when treason was rife all around, and no efforts were spared by those who favored secession, to create enmity toward the general government, and to trammel it in every possible way, the Enterprise was always right and reliable under the direction of its proprietor, Joe Goodman, and its chief editor, R. M. Daggett. We congratulate Nevada and the Republican party and the country upon the fortunate event of the election of Mr. Daggett to congress, now assured by a handsome majority. He is a vigorous writer, a sensible man, a good fellow socially, and a worthy member of the editorial fraternity.

The defeat of Hon. C. S. Varian, candidate for judge of the 3d judicial district, was not entirely unexpected. It was not accomplished through defects in his character as a man or lawyer but resulted from the unscrupulous enmity of men who should have been active friends. He has nothing to be ashamed of in the campaign for he has been honorable and considerate throughout, and was among the first to tender congratulations to the successful candidate. Mr. Varian can stand defeat for the Republican cause and will be found working for it when another election comes. He has traded away neither men, principles or self-respect, and the GAZETTE, satisfied with the principle aim of the judge fight which was secured months since, accepts the result and wishes Hon. J. D. King all due prosperity as judge of the 3d judicial district.

In speaking of the cerberian watchman the S. F. Stock Exchange says: Great astonishment is expressed because those who stole the body of A. T. Stewart must have worked under the eyes of the police. The place is so open that it is hard to understand why the officers did not detect the crime. Probably because the nearest grocery kept open all night. We are not surprised, for we have read the exploits of a thief, who a short time ago, in Oakland blew up and robbed a safe in the police captain's office and stole the pistols of two of the watchful guardians of the peace whom they found in charge of the property. The day is yet coming when municipal governments will take proper steps for protecting the property of their policeman.

Washington Thomas, formerly a wealthy shoe dealer, and an active partisan of Tammany Hall, hanged himself Tuesday night, soon after ascertaining the fate of his party. He had been promised an appointment if the Tammany ticket should be elected.

Mr. Thomas felt the matter very keenly, but he has acted very precipitately in this instance. He has lost his standing in the party and all for the purpose of gaining fame as the "boss suicide." This game will not win, for the people sometimes repudiate those who urge themselves toward distinction.

Another season of quiet and rational living, a few months of sanity and recuperation. A few weeks of excuses and explanation and our people will be invited again to listen. There are too many listenings, too many hustings, too many candidates and too many voters. If it should ever be our lot to read this nation's obituary we shall then learn that it died of election.

The S. F. Stock Exchange says:

One of the most cheerful results of the Nevada election is the defeat of farmer Bradley. It gives us hope that the day is not far distant when vulgarity will not be regarded as the best evidence of honesty, and an unaffected display of ignorance will not be accepted as proof of great mental vigor and surpassing wisdom.

This is merely unkind. The defeat is no less worthy of consideration than the victor. Governor Bradley was not defeated by his personal character but by the nature of his candidacy. The GAZETTE is thankful for his defeat but refuses to insult him because of his failure.

Judge Loderback, the terror of country journalists decided that a policeman is not justified in striking a man when he is down. This will encourage the country newspaper friend once more to visit the city. The slimy outthroat who edits the Exchange is also pleased.

The Grass Valley Union says that Nevada has again asserted her right to be called the rotten borough by the election of Tuesday last. The Union has again asserted its right to be corrected.

In one year 2409 Chinamen were arrested in San Francisco, and all save fifty-six of these were convicted. Why can we not get some interpreters to try our hoodlums with?

Stephen Massett is in Melbourne, and this end of the world is likely to fly up and hit the moon if Steve's brains get any heavier.

Congressman Daggett will reflect credit on his Nevada constituency.—S. F. Alta.

Wholesale Indictments in Sacramento. SACRAMENTO, NOV. 8.—The grand jury has adjourned. It found 104 true bills of indictment. Among them is one against Samuel Poorman, late president of the Odd Fellows' bank, for embezzlement and five charges of misdemeanor for overdrawing his account in the bank. Mr. Poorman came up from San Francisco and gave bail, and says he is ready to stand trial and show absence of criminal intent. Joe Davis and Max Macuse were indicted as ex-officers of the Dime Savings bank on ten cases of misdemeanor and four cases of embezzlement committed in the transaction of the business of that bank. Both are on bail. The jury also found twenty-three bills against H. J. Palmer for embezzlement and false entries in the books of the Sacramento Savings bank. Palmer has given bail, and says he is ready for trial.

Don't Do It.

"Kissing two or three of his parishioners who were very intimate in his family, who had attended Mrs. Beale in her sickness, and who had done other acts of kindness for which he was truly grateful," is, according to a correspondent of the New Haven Palladium, the greatest of the charges against the Rev. Mr. Beale, a Methodist minister of Watford, which are exciting considerable scandal in that storm-tossed village. The parishioners in question are women, and the correspondent explains, as an extenuating circumstance, that the kissing took place in the presence of the Rev. Mr. Beale's family. Perhaps Mr. Beale is of an impulsive nature, like some Europeans, who will hug and kiss their friends, male and female, on the slightest provocation, and don't seem to think any more of it than an ordinary, cool-blooded Englishman or Yankee thinks of a solemn pump-handle shake. But it would be better for ministers to refrain from kissing their lady parishioners, even in the presence and with the approval of their own families. Such demonstrations are likely to create scandal, and, besides, the families of the ladies might object.

The Popularity of Senator Jones.

The Times-Review says: Quite a number of Democrats yesterday voted the Republican legislative ticket, and the probability is that the Republican nominees for state senator and assemblyman will receive a small majority in this precinct. This is attributed to the popularity of John F. Jones, the Republican candidate for United States senator.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.

Two Indignant Women Cowhide their Traducer.

[S. F. Chron tele. 8th.]

Last Thursday a sound thrashing was administered to an individual named J. P. Long, by two indignant females whose characters, they assert, he had impugned. From a statement made by the ladies to a Chronicle reporter, it appears that about two months ago Long made certain slanderous statements to one of the ladies severely reflecting upon the morality of lady No. 2, and exacted a promise not to reveal the information. He subsequently approached lady No. 2 and made the same statement to her concerning the character of lady No. 1, also enjoining upon her the strictest secrecy. Had Mr. Long possessed a long head he would have realized that he was treading on dangerous ground, for the possession of a secret has the same effect upon a female as a cancer, eating, undermining and gradually sapping the vitality, and often bringing her to a premature grave. The ladies retained the secret until it began to gnaw and burn, when one of them concluded that it were better to break her oath than to die, and immediately sought her vilified friend and unloaded her burden of cumlumpy. There was a comparison of notes, the traducer was unmasked, a few angry tears were shed, and the ladies made immediate preparations for the war-path. They did not have recourse to shotguns or pistols, but quietly sat down and indicted to the libelous Long, couched in polite and friendly language, inviting him to fall upon lady No. 1 at her residence on Mission street, at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The unsuspecting Long arrayed himself in gorgeous apparel and promptly responded to the invitation. He was ushered into the parlor and confronted by the irate females, each armed with a flexible rawhide and protected by a body guard of two male relatives. The castigation immediately begun and the blows rained thick and fast. Long danced, howled and begged for mercy, but was met at every turn by the cruel lash, and the punishment continued until the ladies were exhausted, when the victim was ordered to leave by way of the back door. He meekly obeyed the order, and while passing the kitchen, received the contents of a bucket of hot squash. He halted in the back yard to dig the succulent vegetable from under his shirt collar, when the dog was set upon him and fled from his tormentors, a most dilapidated, if not a wiser man.

Farce and Frolics.

Stage performances have of late been varied here and there from what was intended. Joe Rainbolt, one of the sharpshooters of the variety theatres, shot off one of his wife's fingers in Cincinnati, instead of hitting the potato she was holding for a mark. In a pathetic scene in "A Woman of the People," in Baldwin's theatre, San Francisco, the wooden head of the baby that the agonized mother was holding fell off and rolled noisily to the footlights. The actress coolly picked it up and put it on the body again. Ada Cavendish fell ill in the midst of a performance in Baltimore, and was compelled to withdraw. Two young actors turned a mock fight into a real one in a Houston theatre, and would not desist at the proper time. The stage manager was compelled to drop the curtain on the unexpected scene. A phonograph was a part of an exhibition in Cairo, Ill. A sheet of tinfoil had been placed in the apparatus ready to be used; but an enemy of the manager had replaced it by another, and when the crank was turned the phonograph said: "This show is a fraud, and the manager is—" and at that point the man at the crank stopped. A policeman went on the stage of the Chinese theatre to stop the performance, which had been extended beyond the legal time of night. The indignant audience tore up the seats to fling at the intruder, and did damage amounting to $800.—New York Sun.

"Esquire."

[Boston Traveler.]

They patronize "Esquire" at Washington, and to such an extent that we are in the way to become a nation of Esquires. The title is an absurdity here, and an American is no more entitled to it than he is to baronet or that of knight. To write Sir Peter Snooks would be just as correct as to write Peter Snooks Esquire. With the exception of official titles, all titles in this country are improper. It is proper to speak of his excellency the governor of Massachusetts, because that is our chief magistrate's constitutional designation; but it is incorrect to speak of his excellency the President of the United States, for the chief magistrate of the nation has no such title. The plainest form of address is the best.

Curious If True.

[Inyo Independent.]

On the authority of Colonel Talcott, who vouches for the truth of the matter, there is a certain point on a ridge high up on Kearsag Mountain where the rumble of trains on the Southern Pacific Railroad as they cross the range to the west of Mohave, 140 miles distant. There is a regular daily train passing at 10:30 o'clock, and upon reaching the place at this hour the noise of the train is heard as stated. It is a curious thing in nature, but scarcely more than some of the mountain echoes we read of, nor no more incomprehensible than late achievements of science in telephones, phonographs, and megaphones, possibly involving the same principle of conducting sound through the air or solids.

Twenty-two Men Drowned.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The ship Fifeshire was lost on the passage from Madras to Liverpool and twenty-two of her crew lost.

Heroism of a Chinawoman.

[San Diego News, Nov. 3d.]

At about ten o'clock night before last, the steamer Santa Cruz, which had left in the evening, returned to port, having on board, picked up at sea, a Chinaman by the name of Ah Sing dead, and his living wife calling herself Pat. It appears that Ah Sing and his wife, Pat, proceeded to sea in a small junk last Thursday morning at about two o'clock, and that during the day the boat capsized, and both were thrown into the kelp, but Ah Sing received such an injury on the head by the concussion as to stun him. The heroic wife, clinging to the vessel which righted, also clung to the dead husband, and by herculean effort lashed him to it, and in this condition remained for a day and a night. The woman says she saw, and hailed the steamer as it came in this morning, but was not fortunate enough to make them hear at that time. The Santa Cruz came into port, discharged her cargo, and left in the evening, and when well outside, at about half-past 6 o'clock heard the cry for aid, which was promptly rendered. The vessel went alongside and took both on board, a brought them into port. There was no one except the dead man and the living woman on board the junk.

FELLOW'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health, or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure disease of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:-

Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhea,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Paralysis or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or Loss of Voice, Stagnation of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the Heart, Sympathetic Paralysis, caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading to Emphysema, and Debility from various causes.

Indigestion and habitual Constipation almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the Joints and Muscles, Imperfect or even Stopped, and Irregular Action may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS'
Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty in every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public.

This Syrup will cure FULMINANT CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ANEMIA, DYSPEPSIA, LAXITUDINE AND COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from want of MUSCULAR ACTION and NERVOUS FORCE.
